

Biography

Colin Bowyer

Colin Bowyer has over 20 years international business experience ranging from business planning and management to delivering seminars, training programmes and executive coaching in the various areas of his business expertise and experience.

His seminars and training programmes inspire, motivate and teach those who attend to achieve higher performance. His style of delivery is innovative, forward thinking and enthusiastic.

Expertise: Health & Safety

Colin's superlative communication skills enable him to gain a clear view of a client's need. His extensive knowledge of health and safety law ensures that a pragmatic, cost effective and compliant health & safety management system is developed and implemented in a highly efficient way.

He has demonstrated on many occasions that good health and safety management solutions can deliver significant operational and financial benefits to an organisation. This is achieved using the flexibility available within the law, to develop integrated systems that focus on an organisation's core commercial interests.
