

Biography

Gordon Parker BscEng (Hons) CEng MIStructE MBIFM

Gordon is the Managing Director of Coretex International Limited. He is a Chartered Engineer with experience as a design manager, procurement manager, project manager, operations manager and coach.

Gordon is a specialist in organisational design, change management and performance improvement. He works with client teams to achieve sustainable organisational change. He is tenacious in the achievement of client objectives, with a structured, analytical, collaborative way of working.

Major projects include

- Europe wide strategy and organisation creation process for Agilent following the separation from HP in 2000
- Facilitating creation of the Nokia global RE platform from 2001-2004 including a Europe wide performance improvement initiative
- Strategic consultancy for the BBC as part the radical change programme in 2005
- Global Integration Management and Performance Management for the creation of Nokia Siemens Networks Real Estate department (70,000 person, 1,000 location) in 2006-2009.

Gordon is Vice Chair of the BIFM International Special Interest Group, and is also a member of IFMA and Corenet Global.