

Biography

Ian Elliott

Ian trained and qualified as an auditor. He has spent most of his career in senior management in industry and consultancy. For the past seventeen years he has specialised in facilities management, concentrating on change management assignments. His role is typically to engage the team, define the Vision, develop the change plan and drive the team towards the Vision using the strategies agreed.

Ian has consistent track record of both improving performance and overall competitiveness through strategic planning and business re-engineering. He has a comprehensiveness knowledge and understanding of the commercial and market aspects of the facilities sector.

Ian favours persuasive and participative methods for influencing and motivating other people. He is highly analytic and has an adaptable style of decision-making and problem solving. Ian is well suited to functions where problems and issues are complex and rapidly changing, varied, or unpredictable, and where high levels of creativity, intelligence and imagination are required.
